More convocations are still being planned for this semester.

WATCH YOUR EMAILS FOR DETAILS!

Because convocations are an integral part of students' educations, they are required to attend 30 convocations. Students are expected to fulfill this requirement by the end of their junior year, by attending an average of five convocations per semester.

Students must swipe in and out for each convocation in order to receive convocation credit. Convocations are open to the public and space is limited in the venues. Please plan ahead and arrive early to ensure a seat.
